ISPOR is recognized globally as the leading educational and scientific organization for outcomes research and its use in health care decisions, and ISPOR is at the forefront of its development across Asia-Pacific. Asia-Pacific is a particularly dynamic region for health care, with widespread and rapid changes occurring in health care reform (universal health care and access to treatment), health technology assessment development and revolutions in data integration. The ISPOR Asia-Pacific Conference provides the opportunity to capture all of these recent developments at a glance, as well as share information and learn from leading experts in the region.
